Dear Mr. Braun,

We left Hysattstown eight years ago the first of the month. However, I have and thank you for your letter of the 12th.

There has been much work done on political assassinations. I have printed four JFK books, each going into new and other evidence. I hope to have fifth ready soon. (flyer enclosed.) You appear to have the second only.

Based on this little evidence I'd not now encourage a novel, an idea I had 10 years ago and then laid aside because I then did not know enough to write responsibly in the novel form but intending non-fiction.

There have been a number but theorizing is not accepted today.

This is why I keep pressing for and suing for and getting new fact I then have to struggle to print.

As you should have noticed those who pretended their wild theories were real fact mixed up another whitewash. I fear we have to stick to what fact we can establish.

And there is no other basis for a Congressional investigation.

I regard one as the only answer to your question. But these well-advertised self-seekers, who have ripped the national mind off from the other side, have become the biggest single obstacle to such an investigation. So much insanity has been dumped on Senator Church he is opposed to one.

I think that for those who can do real work, as I do, the obligation is to do it and publish it as best one can.

For others perhaps the major obligation is first to inform themselves and then to inform others, from friends and neighbors to the legislatures.

Thanks and best regards,
